Marden	Samuel	Rainwick	William	05	01	1860	Theft of clothes	T	Mardan, a paper maker at Wookey, was lodging in Grove Lane. Sharing the accommodation was Rainwick, a soldier of the 12th Regiment of Foot. When Mardan returned to his lodging after working a night shift, his landlady informed him that Rainwick had decamped and had stolen some of Mardan's clothes; Rainwick's regimentals had been left behind. Mardan assessed the value of the stolen clothes to be £5.	1860/001
[Regina]		Whitehead	John	16	01	1860	Vagrancy	V	Whitehead was found in an outhouse belonging to William Welchman the younger and appeared to be sleeping there. He had previous convictions as a rogue and vagabond and was sentenced to be held in prison at Shepton Mallet and held to hard labour until the next Quarter Sessions when he would be dealt with according to the law.	1860/002
Glanz	Lazarus	Creedy	Major	20	01	1860	Assault	A	Glanz complained that Creedy, a butcher, had attacked him, striking him several times in the face and kicking him in the back. The incident took place in the In Parish of St Cuthbert. The costs of the case appear to have been 12/6d. There is no indication of the verdict.	1860/003
Sharland	Jane	Hopkins	William	23	01	1860	Indecent exposure	le	Jane Sharland was the wife of Charles Sharland, a porter, and lived in Mill Lane. She complained that she had found Hopkins, a carpenter from Bull Lane, defecating on her doorstep and exposing his person.	1860/004
Harris	John	Scarse	James	20	01	1860	Absenteeism	Ab	Harris was a baker who traded in High Street. Scarse had been apprenticed to him for two years when he left his employ without consent on 18 January. A warrant for the arrest of Scarse was issued.	1860/005

Fry	Francis	Pearse	George	17	03	1860	Sureties for the peace	Su	Fry, a maltster, was at the door of Parker's the butcher in High Street when Pearse, a haulier, began to insult him, initially from across the street and then in his face. Pearse claimed that Fry had robbed him of a sovereign. Fry feared that Pearse would take violent action and requested that he be required to put forward sureties as to his future conduct. It seems that Pearse was required to pay costs of 10/6d and there are three figures, one of £10 and two of £5, which may represent the bonds that he had to obtain. If in default, he would serve 14 days in prison.	1860/018

Hardwich	Thomas	Hoskins	William	21	04	1860	Theft	T	Hardwich was an auctioneer who had the task of selling of the possessions of Elizabeth Bolwell, late of Vicars Close. Hardwich claimed that a number of items had been stolen from the house in Vicars Close and named Hoskins, a resident of Croscombe, who had been employed as a porter for the auction sale, as the likely thief. A search warrant was issued for Hoskins' home in Croscombe where he lived with his mother, then an arrest warrant for Hoskins. Hoskins appears to have been sentenced to 6 weeks in prison in Shepton Mallet. There is a further document (barely legible) that shows James Smith to have been sentenced to 21 days in gaol with hard labour, although it is possible that his offence was vagrancy and unconnected to Hoskins.	1860/026

Foster	W J S			29	08	1865	Letter to John James asking for advice	*	William John Slade Foster, town clerk, wrote to John James of Wrigton asking for the practice of the justices in that jurisdiction for awarding an alcohol licence to a new applicant where the holder of the existing licence had not completed a transfer of the existing licence to that new applicant. The situation apparently arose because of an application made by Mr Oxley, a potential new tenant, for the renewal of the licence for The Crown Inn.	1865/062a

James	John			30	08	1865	Reply to W J S Foster letter	*	In response to the letter of Mr Foster (see 1865/062a) John James responded to put forward the view that he could see nothing in the regulations that prevented a licence being granted provided that the justices were certain that the existing licence holder would not be submitting an application to renew the licence. However, it would be preferable for there to be a transfer of the current licence before a new licence was issued, particularly as the annual licensing meeting took place about 6 weeks before the new licence would come into effect.	1865/062e
O'Donoghue	Henry			30	08	1865	Reply to W J S Foster letter	*	In response to the letter of Mr Foster (see 1865/062b) O'Donoghue stated that there should be a formal transfer of the unexpired portion of the existing licence before a new licence was issued for the same public house or alehouse. However, in theory, the mayor has the power to grant an alcohol licence at the annual licensing meeting to any person that they consider to be a fit and proper person.	1865/062f
Foster	W J S			31	08	1865	Letter to Messrs Brice and Burgess asking for advice	*	William John Slade Foster, town clerk, wrote to Messrs Brice and Burgess of the council in Bristol asking for the practice of the justices in that jurisdiction for awarding an alcohol licence to a new applicant where the holder of the existing licence had not completed a transfer of the existing licence to that new applicant.	1865/062g

Tucker	Edward	White	Joseph	11	04	1868	Profane and obscene language	Pr	Police serjeant Edward Tucker accused Josph White of using profane and obscene language when drunk in Wells Market Place. White admitted the offence and apologised for his behaviour. The case documents all show the defendant's name as Charles White, later amended to Joseph White.	1868/033
Harvey	Elizabeth	Mitchell	Samuel	14	04	1868	Bastardy	B	Elizabeth Harvey, a single woman residing in St Thomas Street, had won a bastardy order against Samuel Mitchell of Sherborne in 1866. This provided for a payment of 1/6d a week to Harvey until the child reached the age of 13. Mitchell had paid the sums required for a period but had now fallen into arrears and was refusing to pay. A warrant was issued for Mitchell's arrest - but pencil amendments to it show a date of January 1869.	1868/034

Tucker	Edward	Rounsewill	John	15	05	1868	Incitement to obstruct police action	Ic	Police serjeant Tucker had arrested two men at the boarding house run by Richard Wilton in Southover for an alleged knife attack on Wilton's wife, Martha (prisoners were Neale and Ledds). Tucker was taking the prisoners back to the police station up High Street and one member of the crowd starting crying 'shame', inciting the crowd that had gathered and encouraging the prisoners to further violence. A skirmish developed in which one PC was knocked down. Tucker identified the person inciting the crowd as John Rounsewell who worked at the paper mill and lodged in Broad Street. Tucker summoned Frederick George, Thomas Cheeseman, Samuel Tyte and Thomas Broomfield to testify on his behalf. It seems likely that Rounsewell was fined 5/- but there were costs of 24/6d; it is not clear if he was expected to pay these as well.	1868/041
Rounsewell	John	Tucker	Edward	16	05	1868	Obscene language	Pr	See 1868/041. Rounsewell claimed that the prisoner being taken to the police station by Tucker was half-naked and being ill-treated by the police. He called out to Tucker to 'have pity on the man and treat him decently'. When they reached the police station, Tucker came back outside and threatened to have Rounsewell sacked from his job at the paper mill by contacting his employer, Mr Burgess. Rounsewell also claimed that Tucker called him 'a damnation coward'. Rounsewell called Edward Burgess, the owner of the paper mill and his employer, as a witness on his part. The case appears to have been dismissed.	1868/042
Hillman	James	Unknown persons		18	05	1868	Assault	A	Hillman claimed to have been attacked, punched and kicked by two unknown men, strangers to Wells, who could now be found at the Traveller's Rest beer house. A warrant was issued for the arrest of these two unknown men.	1868/043

Tucker	Edward	Rowley	John	25	06	1868	Hawking without a licence	L	Police serjeant Tucker observed Rowley, not a resident of Wells, hawking hardware in the yard of the Fountain Inn. This was not a registered market place or dwelling house and Rowley had no licence to carry on such trade. The supposed offence took place on 20 June.	1868/058
Tucker	Edward	Rowley	John	25	06	1868	Hawking without a licence	L	This is an almost exact duplicate of case 1868/058. The products being sold differ slightly and the date of this supposed offence is given as 23 June.	1868/059
Tucker	Edward	Rowley	John	25	06	1868	Bread sold with short weight and no scales	Wm	Police serjeant Tucker observed Rowley selling bread in the yard of the Fountain Inn. There were no scales on which to weigh the bread - contrary to law which required bread to be sold by weight - and the loaf bought by Tucker was said to be 2oz short of the required weight. A letter from Rowley's solicitors in Bridgwater requested a postponement of the hearings and denied all three charges (1868/058, 1868/059 and 1868/060) against Rowley who claimed to be a licensed hawker.	1868/060
